VISA

European students don't need a visa. If you are a national of a member state of the European Union (EU) or the European Economic Area (EEA), you may apply directly to the institution(s) of interest to you. You are not required to follow any particular process to enter French higher education beyond the first year. You are not even required to obtain a visa. If you live in EU countries but are not a citizen, you will have to apply for a student visa at the French consulate in the country in which you reside. .

Students with citizenship in a country outside the European Union (EU), require a residence permit in order to study in France for longer than 3 months. They must apply for a residence permit through the French embassy or consulate in their native country or other country where they live permanently. Citizens of certain countries may also apply online. Extended-stay student visa, with residency permit (VLS-TS) applies to all international students wishing to enroll in a French institution of higher education. When the VLS-TS visa is issued, the consulate will give the applicant an official form (with instructions) that the applicant must present to the French Office of Immigration and Integration (OFII). Students are strongly advised to learn, before arriving in France, whether an agreement exists between their host institution and OFII. In all cases, a tax of €60 must be paid by purchasing a tax stamp marked "OMI" or "ANAEM."

INSURANCES

Students from countries in the European Economic Space are exempted from participation as long as they hold either a European health insurance card (or temporary certificate) valid for the entire academic year or a certificate of private insurance providing full coverage for medical risks without restrictions related to cost. They join the plan when they register for classes at the beginning of the academic year.

- <http://www.securite-sociale.fr/La-Carte-Europeenne-d-Assurance-Maladie-CEAM>

Participation in the plan is mandatory for non-European students. French health-care coverage, provided under the social security system ("Sécurité sociale"). Covered individuals are reimbursed for a portion of their medical expenses in return for a low basic payment. For students, that payment reaches €217 in 2017/2018. To benefit from the national student health-care system, students must be under 28 years of age and registered in a program for at least 4 months in an approved institution of higher education.
